

Compound Adjectives

Compound adjectives are made up of two or more words. Usually, hyphens are used, but sometimes compound adjectives don't need hyphens. They work together to describe a noun and are considered a single descriptive unit.

Directions: Complete the compound adjective by adding the best word in the blank spaces.

1. The two-bedroom apartment was over priced.
2. Alex wrote a hand-written letter to Emily for Valentine's Day.
3. My grandma still dreams about a never-ending love story.
4. I despise ill-mannered people.
5. Kayla has been going to anger management classes because she's extremely short-tempered.
6. "What are you staring at? You've never seen a one-eyed man before?" Screamed the man.
7. It's more important to be a kind-hearted person than to have a lot of money.
8. My parents teach me to be a self-confident individual.
9. The heavy-duty duct tape was more expensive than the regular one.
10. The cost-effective way of rebuilding the engine was finalized.
11. The rental property manager informed the future tenant that the lease would be long-term.
12. In Mr. Thompson's history class, he taught about the the deeply-rooted racism in the country.