

Possessive Adjectives

Possessive adjectives are words like:
"my", "your", "his", "her", "its", "our", "their", and "whose".
They modify a noun to show ownership or possession.

Directions: Brian made 6 mistakes regarding proper adjectives in his journal entry. Circle the mistakes and write the corrected version underneath.

Whispers in the Dark

Last night was terrifying. I was walking back to mine house after dinner when I heard strange whispers behind me. I didn't want to acknowledge the sound, but the curiosity got the best of me. I slowly turned around, but no one was there. The streetlights flickered, and suddenly, a cold breeze brushed against our neck. I ran past their neighbor's yard, where they're garden lights were blinking oddly. When I opened the door, I saw me's dog barking at the empty hallway. He's fur stood on end, and he wouldn't stop growling. I checked our living room, and to my horror, the rocking chair was moving by itself. I grabbed my phone to record it, but the screen turned black. I still don't know what I saw, but I'm sure that wasn't just it's imagination.

Possessive Adjectives

Possessive adjectives are words like:
"my", "your", "his", "her", "its", "our", "their", and "whose".
They modify a noun to show ownership or possession.

Directions: Brian made 6 mistakes regarding proper adjectives in his journal entry. Circle the mistakes and write the corrected version underneath.

Whispers in the Dark

Last night was terrifying. I was walking back to mine house after dinner when I heard strange whispers behind me. I didn't want to acknowledge the sound, but the curiosity got the best of me. I slowly turned around, but no one was there. The streetlights flickered, and suddenly, a cold breeze brushed against our neck. I ran past their neighbor's yard, where they're garden lights were blinking oddly. When I opened the door, I saw me's dog barking at the empty hallway. He's fur stood on end, and he wouldn't stop growling. I checked our living room, and to my horror, the rocking chair was moving by itself. I grabbed my phone to record it, but the screen turned black. I still don't know what I saw, but I'm sure that wasn't just it's imagination.

