

Action Verbs

Action verbs show action, whether it's physical or mental.

For example: run, or think.

They express what the subject is doing or has done. There may be more than one action verb in each sentence.

Directions: Circle the action verb in each sentence.

1. I discarded my past due homework in the recycling bin.
2. The safari zoo restricted entry for July Fourth.
3. She twirled around in her new princess dress.
4. The archeologist deciphered the ancient cryptic message on the walls.
5. Nancy sprinted through the finish line.

Directions: For each of the places provided in the columns, write down action verbs you could do in each place. The first one is done for you as an example.
