

Indefinite Pronouns

Indefinite pronouns refer to non-specific people, things, or amounts.

Directions: Underline the indefinite pronoun in each sentence. If there isn't any, leave the sentence as is.

1. Anybody could be the killer.
2. Each of them received a goody bag after the birthday party.
3. I'd like another please.
4. They were criticizing their local government.
5. Everything will fall into place.
6. There is nothing left for me in this town.
7. Somebody littered beside the river.
8. Both seem possible and reasonable.
9. All are welcome here.
10. Those look scrumptious.
11. More is needed for the approval.
12. Some are refusing to comply.

Directions: Circle the indefinite pronouns. There is a total of 7 indefinite pronouns.

Each

Him

Any

It

Us

Everyone

One

All

These

More

Ourselves

This

Yours

None