Directions: Read Jenny's journal entry below and underline all the mistakes regarding progressive verb tense. She made a total of 7 mistakes.

Yesterday, I was sneaked out of school with my best friend, thinking we were embarking on the ultimate adventure. We are tiptoeing past the janitor's closet when suddenly, the principal were walking right toward us! Now, I was sitting in detention, writing this journal entry, while my friend is trying to mime apologies through the window. We are realized that our brilliant plan wasn't so brilliant after all. Tomorrow, we was attending extra study sessions to make up for the class we missed. I guess we does learning that sometimes, the real adventure is staying in class and avoiding the wrath of the principal.
