

Countable Nouns and Uncountable Nouns

Adjectives you can use before countable nouns vs. noncountable nouns

Countable:	Many	Few	Plenty/ enough	Some/any	No	A lot of/ lots of
Uncountable:	Much	Little/ a little bit of	Plenty/ enough	Some/any	No	A lot of/ lots of Directions: Circle the correct word that follows the rules for countable/uncountable nouns.

1. “Bring a/some coffee to church,” suggested Nikita.
2. There wasn’t a/much traffic on the road this morning.
3. “You don’t have enough/fifty money to purchase this,” said the cashier.
4. The coalition requires an/a lot of information to make their decision.
5. Because of testing season, the students don’t have many/much homework.
6. My mother noticed some leftover juice/juices on the table.
7. Danny devoured enough food/foods to last him the entire day.
8. Many/much Americans travel to Europe during summer.
9. I didn’t get many/much sleep last night because of the storm.
10. Very little/two bread was remaining in the food bank.
11. “Did you lick any/few honey from the jar?” Interrogated Sammy’s mother.
12. East Asian countries distribute a lot of/many rice to other countries.
13. “Bring plenty of/much pencils for school!” Reminded Sammy’s mother.